

New Sales, Distribution & Manufacturing Centre for Anderco

Anderco Safety is pleased to announce the opening of a new sales and distribution centre and safety signs manufacturing facility at 52 Eastgate Drive, Little Island, Cork. Riding high on a decade of successful trading, Anderco have operated from Little Island since 1997 distributing high quality general and specialised safety equipment and protective clothing. The company decided to open a new premises in order to continue to expand the business and offer a more comprehensive range of services to customers.

The custom designed building has 30,000 square feet of floor space, over 2.5 times the size of Anderco's previous premises, and has been equipped to suit the company's current and emerging needs. It contains a dedicated training facility that will afford closer liaison with, and training of, customers and will provide a facility in which to hold seminars, product launches etc. A significant component of the new building is an enhanced signs manufacturing and embroidery facility and an extensive retail unit featuring such brands as Snickers, Sioen, Kimberly-Clark, Uvex, Best, JSP, Dickies, Scott, Timberland and Caterpillar.

Commenting on Anderco's growth since its full time safety focus in 1993, Alan Bruce, the company's managing director, says that Anderco has recorded an average year-on-year growth of 21%. "We started with just 4 employees and today we have 35. We started with a small number of customers and now have a 2,000 strong customer base across a wide spectrum of market sectors, from pharma / chem and electronics to the service sector, government departments and local authorities." Bruce points to a proactive customer service ethos as the main reason for Anderco's success to date, at a time when growth rates in the industry remain unremarkable. safety industry, Anderco offers its customers a range of tailored service packages and offers a number of supply systems to cater for individual ordering cycles and stock management requirements. Recent performance has secured Anderco's position as the rising star in the industry.

